LAWNS AND GARDENS.

THE "ARTIFICIAL ASHES AND ARTIFICIAL YARD MANURE" are greatly to be preferred to stable dressing for lawns and gardens. 1st—Because they contain all the elements of plant food, and are therefore suited to all soils and all crops. 2d—Because they do not introduce foul seeds and coarse grasses. Many a man seeds his garden with weeds, and ruins his lawn by the ordinary appliances. These artificials are also cheaper than the originals. They may be ordered at George A. Weaver's, on Broadway, or of the proprietor, at the Daily News office. 19

WASHINGTON.

THE TOBACCO TAX AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The tobacco manufacturers resolved in February last that they would not ask for any further reduction of tax for eight years. Having obtained their reduction they have instigated the tobacco growers to demand the right of selling $100 worth of leaf tobacco to a consumer free of tax. This, if enacted, will virtually abolish all duties on tobacco, as no one could tell when the tobacco grower stopped selling the $100 worth to the consumer. Manufactured chewing tobacco is leaf tobacco pressed and flavored, and manufactured smoking tobacco is leaf tobacco cut and flavored, so that under this apparent simple proposition to defeat the tobacco growers, that important source of revenue will be destroyed.

THE CAUCUS BILL REPORTED BACK.

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary, or rather the Democratic members of that committee, reported back the caucus bill with slight amendments, one to protect a state against invasion, and the other giving the Governor power to call for troops when the Legislature is not in session.

THE SPECULATION IN REFUNDING CERTIFICATES.

Some of the local banks are such large speculators in the ten dollar refunding certificates as to have crippled their currency resources, and several banks refused to cash a small Treasury draft on New York yesterday on the ground that they were short of currency.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS BILL.

No one at the Capitol appears to know what the President thinks of the Democratic caucus bill forbidding the preservation of peace at elections, but the Republicans feel confident that when he sees how adroitly it is worded and what it conceals he will veto it. The fact that the Appropriation bills are to be kept back until this bill has been approved is a threat that will be powerless.

SADNESS AMONG ARMY OFFICERS.

There is sadness among army officers. The Senate Committee on the Judiciary having decided that the act of Congress stopping promotions until the report of the Burnside Commission has been disposed of is still in force. This will hang up some fifty nominations for promotion now before the Senate.

THE SENATE IN A MAZE.

It having been claimed that the Kellogg investigation had precedence of everything, an entangling question of order was raised by Mr. Conkling, on which an adverse ruling was made by Mr. Withers, who was in the chair, from which an appeal was taken. A general cross fire of debate ensued in which a great deal of parliamentary lore was displayed, so entangling matters that it was difficult to tell what was the question before the Senate. The appeal from the decision of the Chair was laid on the table by a party vote—24 ayes against 23 nays.

THE REPUBLICAN SUBSTITUTE REJECTED.

The Republican caucus substitute for the Democratic caucus was defeated by party vote

A LITTLE FILLIBUSTERING.

The Democrats then attempted to force their bill through without allowing further amendment, when the Republicans neglected to vote and there was no quorum. A call of the House was ordered.

THE ARMY BILL THROUGH THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 6. — Evening. —The Democrats passed their caucus bill today, without debate. They allowed the Republicans to have a vote on the substitute prepared by their caucus committee. It was decided by the Republicans that the substitute was all that was required to present the record by which they were willing to stand, and as containing a full answer to any charge that they were contending for the right to interfere at elections with troops. There is a general impression that the President will sign the bill, though it is understood that as yet he is studying with special reference to those restrictions on the powers and duties of the Executive which some of the ablest lawyers claim that it contains. Although the judiciary committee of the Senate amended the caucus bill, there will be an attempt made on the floor to accept the House bill as it was passed today, rather than to send it back amended. The amendment was made necessary by noticing that the caucus committee had not preserved to the President the authority to furnish a state with troops to repel armed invasion.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS BILL PRESENTED.

The Republican Substitute Introduced and Read.—The Democratic Caucus Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—At 1 o'clock the Democrats succeeded in clearing the docket of the morning hour and the Judiciary Committee reported the Democratic caucus bill. The Democrats, to avoid filibustering by the Republicans, allowed the Republicans to have their substitute read. It is in substance as follows :

THE REPUBLICAN SUBSTITUTE.

A bill to further protect the freedom of elections. Whereas, the unnecessary presence of troops at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions and the traditions of our people, and will tend to destroy freedom of elections; and whereas the presence of troops at the polls has heretofore been and may be necessary hereafter to suppress illegal and powerful combinations of armed men in military array engaged in forcible resistence to the laws of the United States; and whereas, experience has shown that the existence of the Republic and the supremacy of its law and the liberties of the people can only be maintained against military and other combinations by the exercise of military power in subordination to the civil power; and whereas the injunction of the Constitution to execute the laws equally binding as to laws relating to elections, the courts, &c., therefore,

Be it enacted, etc., That it shall not be lawful to bring to or employ at any place where a general or special election is being held, any part of the army or navy of the United States, unless such employment be necessary to carry out the provisions of the Constitution of the United States, or to remove forcible resistance to the execution of laws made in pursuance thereof.

Section 2. Persons violating this to be amenable to section 5528 of the Revised Statutes.

The Republicans succeeded in having a vote recorded upon their substitute.

Coin in the National Banks.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The House Banking and Currency Committee had under consideration today a bill requiring national banks in the cities hereafter to hold two-fifths in coin to redeem their circulation and deposits, and all national banks outside of cities three-fifths in coin for the same purpose.

The bill was referred to a sub-committee, with instructions to report it to the full committee tomorrow. It is the purpose of the committee to report the measure to the House at once for action.

A Joker in the British Navy.

LONDON, May 6.—Sub-Lieutenant Coyte, of the Royal Navy, who was arrested last month in Cork, on suspicion of being the author of the hoax about the pirate ship off Fastnet light on the 16th of January last, has been convicted of the offence and dismissed from the service. This was the story that sent gunboat Goshawk to sea on a fruitless chase. Coyte was serving on board of the Goshawk at the time.

THE STRATFORD, ONT., EXPLOSION.

Losses Estimated at $1,000,000.

NEW YORK, May 6.—A Stratford dispatch reports that the loss by the explosion yesterday is estimated from half a million to a million. The inhabitants are discussing the chances of recovering damages from the shippers or carriers of the explosive, which was shipped on account of Vanderbilt, to be used in blasting the Detroit tunnel.

BLASTING POWDER AND NOT NITRO-GLYCERINE.

MONTREAL, May 6.—The material exploded at Stratford was blasting powder shipped from Belœil, Quebec, for Amherstburg. No cause for the explosion has been ascertained. Three lives were lost, three men were seriously and three slightly injured, all employés of the Grand Trunk Company.

A large number of windows in the neighboring houses were broken. The total damage to the Grand Trunk Company's property and freight in transit is estimated at $25,000. The car containing powder was in the act of being shunted at the time of the explosion.

AN INVESTIGATION.

OTTAWA, May 6.—The government is investigating the explosion at Stratford.

The Indian Territory.

NEW YORK, May 6.—A Washington despatch says the Secretary of War says that Gen. Sheridan has been furnished with all the documents necessary for a full understanding of the immigration scheme for the invasion of Indian Territory. His orders are imperative to prevent emigrants from crossing the boundary of the Territory and to remove without parley, delay or argument, all trespassers upon the soil of Indian Territory. Nor is it the intention of the Government to have its authority questioned by any forms of law.

ILLINOIS.

The Suit Against the Western Union Railroad Company.

CHICAGO, May 6.—In the case of the Farmer's Loan and Trust Company against the Western Union Railroad Company, in the United States Circuit Court, counsel called up the rule entered by Judge Drummond on Friday, requiring the defendant to show cause on Monday why a receiver should not be appointed. The defendant appeared by counsel, and moved for postponement until June 2. After argument the motion was refused, and the rule to show cause set down for May 20. Of the $3,500,000 of mortgage bonds, for failure to pay interest on which the foreclosure proceedings are begun, $3,000,000 are owned by the Bank of Glasgow, and constitute the chief assets of that institution, the liquidators of the bank being the parties who really bring the suit.

VANDERBILT'S RAILROAD ENTERPRISES.

President Keep of the Northwestern Railroad Company says he believes that Vanderbilt has secured an interest in that road, but had no information of any projected change in the management on that account. The authorities of the Chicago and Alton Railroad deny reports of Vanderbilt's proprietorship of any part of that road.

FREIGHT RATES.

The vessel owners remained firm in their demand for 4 cents freight on corn and 4½ on wheat to Buffalo, and as shippers demanded reductions there were no charters, the grain men preferring to pay the additional ½ cent storage, due on Tuesday, and risk the possibility of securing lower rates within 10 days.

Both the striking sailors and vessel owners refuse to recede from their terms, and only a few lumber vessels have taken out crews at $1 50 per day, the rate demanded being $2.

Alexander Stephen's Views.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 6—The Chronicle publishes a letter from Alexander H. Stephens on national financial matters. He favors abolishing the whole system of internal revenue taxation and would meet the deficit with fresh issues of treasury notes, or in the last resort, with an ad valorem tax on property. He condemns the system as costly and oppressive, says the sales of four per cents. indicate suffering instead of prosperity. He favors the unlimited issue of bullion certificates as a means of relieving the general distress of the country.

The Manhattan Bank Bonds Offered for Sale in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—The detectives arrested a man at Drexel's Monday, while offering for sale five thousand dollar's worth of bonds, the numbers of which correspond with those stolen from the Manhattan bank, New York city in October. The man gave the name of Henry Hall.

FARM AND GARDEN.

THE DISEASES OF LIVE STOCK, and their most efficient remedies, including horses, cattle, sheep and swine. A popular treatise, giving in brief and plain language a description of all the usual diseases to which these animals are liable, and the most successful treatment of American, English and European veterinarians: by Lloyd V. Tellor, M. D. 1 vol. 8 vo., pp. 468. Bound in best English painted cloth, beveled boards, gilt back and side stamp, price $2.50; and in full leather, price $3.00. Illustrated.

The money value of the live stock of the United States is estimated considerably to exceed the amount of the national debt,—$2,000,000,000—two thousand millions of dollars. Millions on millions of dollars are lost yearly through preventable and curable diseases. But the scarcity of educated veterinary surgeons, and the absolute want of any book which instructs farmers, stock raisers, and others owning domestic animals, how to recognize, treat and prevent diseases among them according to the most approved scientific methods, stands in the way of this immense saving. The present work is intended to supply this deficiency. It was written by a physician of honorable standing in his profession, who has spent his life in the country, and has made a special and practical study of the diseases of the lower animals. His own observations have been enlarged and corrected by a close study of the most eminent authorities in Great Britain, Europe, and this country. And the results are presented in such direct, plain and clear language that any person of ordinary education can, by a perusal of the book, recognize and be ready to treat with skill any of the ordinary diseases of the four species of animals considered.

The book which is the best of its class that we have seen may be had by sending to Ormiston & Co., 33 Broomfield street, Boston.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

STIMULATE THE SLUGGISH KIDNEYS.

In addition to its tonic and cathartic properties, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters exercises a beneficial influence upon the kidneys and bladder, when they are inactive, by stimulating them to renewed exertion, thus reopening, as it were, a sluice for the escape of impurities whose regular channel of exit is the organs of urination. Among these are certain abnormal and inflammatory elements, productive of irreparable injury to the system if not entirely expelled. The kidneys and bladder themselves are also benefitted by this stimulus, as their inactivity is usually a preliminary to their disease and disorganization. They also experience, in common with other portions of the system, the potent invigorative effects of the Bitters, which furthermore corrects disordered conditions of the stomach, bowels and liver.

INSURANCE

I REPRESENT the oldest company in America, and also the largest company in the United States, together with other standard American and European institutions. The Ætna of Hartford alone has paid over $45,000,000 in losses, and has now $7,000,000 assets in hand.

Insurance in such companies, with ample means, and an established reputation for fair dealing, is worth much more than in any of the numerous weaklings that loiter along for a while and then go down. About fifty such companies have failed during the last year, and as many others are on the way to ruin.

The rates in these first-class companies are no higher than in the small and doubtful concerns.

Farm property taken very low for three or five years.

All losses settled at this office. For terms call on, or address by mail the undersigned at the office of this paper. L. D. DAVIS.

Newport Daily News, and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted), at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pittman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 32 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty-five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

This job office has recently been supplied with new type and a new press, especially adapted to fine work. Liberal supplies of choice papers, envelopes and cards, always on hand. Prices as low as possible for first class work.

RELIGIOUS FANATICISM.

When a man gets to the point that he considers himself under the guidance of special revelations from God, he is always on the highway of religious fanaticism. Henceforth in his own estimate he is not as other men, and is sure to soon become conceited, censorious and vindictive. No man can be his counsellor, for he draws his inspiration from heaven, and what God reveals to him is not to be even weighed in the balances of probabilities or judged by ordinary human standards. The case now occupying attention at Pocasset, Mass., is in point. Here was a sect of fanatics, made up of men, without education or capability to investigate and pass upon profound questions of any sort, who gave themselves to the interpretation of the most difficult and most mysterious portions of Holy Scriptures. They took up the speculations of certain men who are ever learning but never coming to the truth and believed that in answer to prayer the great mysteries of ancient prophecy, such as have baffled the wisest men of all ages, were revealed to their souls. Acting upon this assumption they counted themselves as the chosen of the Lord and became the accusers and reprovers of their neighbors who did not, like them, see things clearly. Thus they went on, step by step, interpreting and prophesying by turns, and announcing the end of all things as at hand. Wild with excitement they iterated and reiterated the doctrines that have been preached in every generation and shown to be false by the logic of events, until they became addicted to all sorts of excesses. And now at last, when one of the most sober and intelligent of the number murders his own child in the name of religion, the whole society joins in approbation and maintains his innocence of crime. It would seem that there was no room for such fanaticism in this age and in this country. But it exists, not only in the quiet Massachusetts town towards which so many eyes are now turned, but to a greater or less degree in all our communities. We need not go to the dark ages for illustrations of religious fanaticism. The nineteenth century is full of it—as full as any of its predecessors. It is a legitimate outgrowth of the rejection of authority in church and state. Many a man who is ignorant of the first principles of interpretation assumes to be the equal, in unfolding the mysteries of the Bible, of his pastor who has been especially trained to the work. And strange to say the less such men actually know the more readily they turn from the truth and the more easily they explain the hidden things of God. The prophecies relating to the end of the world are always a favorite topic with this class, and as Dr. Adam Clarke remarks there has not been a half century since the commencement of the Christian era in which these prophecies have not been made to show that the final hour was at hand. And when such ignorant men undertake to explain these subjects it is not strange that they become fanatics and fall into the wildest and sometimes the wickedest excesses. They have no acquaintance with the facts of history nor the discoveries of modern science. They do not know the difference between the gorgeous symbolism of Eastern speech and the bare statements of literal truth. In utter disregard of the laws of development they fail to see that a course of action might be perfectly proper in the circumstances under which Abraham, David or Solomon were placed, and entirely wrong under the conditions of modern life in Europe or America. And thus with their intense literalism they rush forward in their narrow path, filled with zeal, and impressed with the idea that they are honoring God and doing good to men, while in fact they are bringing contempt upon all true religion, and driving sober and thoughtful men from the altars of the church. The more converts these men make the more harm they do to the cause which they love. We are not speaking of any particular sect, or the advocates of any special creed. Such men are found in every church, but more notably in those denominations that allow the largest liberty to the individual, and give the least authority to the ministry, as teachers and governors. The whole subject is one that deserves serious thought by sober and intelligent believers.

BY THE NEWPORT BEACH.

[Written on a bridge crossing a stream running into the beach at Newport, on one of the last beautiful days in April, '79.]

I mused on the bridge by the Newport beach,
And counted the vessels my eye could reach,
I saw many a noble ship advance
On the grand old ocean's broadening expanse.
One came from the west, just rounding the Neck,
Her rigging trim, her sails without a speck.
How many days before her trip is o'er
As she soon leaves behind the rounding shore?
Prosperous and short may her voyage be
As she slowly crosses the widening sea.
Cloudless and clear was that beautiful day,
As I looked on the cliffs stretching away.
At the forty steps on the right hand shore
The stormy waves beat with a deafening roar,
And long will it be when time shall efface
The thought of those, who died in their embrace,
Just in front the surf comes rolling along,
Keeping rythmic time to my musing song,
Soon the many bathers will throng the beach
Talking, laughing and chatting each to each,
And the beauty and wealth of Newport life
Will come to the beach for a bathing strife.

THE LIFE OF BARNUM.

We have received from Mr. Barnum an autograph copy of his life entitled Trial's and Triumphs of 40 years—written by himself. It is an interesting book of nearly 400 pages, with 36 full page illustrations, bound in muslin and gold. The retail price of his book is $1.50, but it is sold on the grounds on the day of exhibition for one dollar and each purchaser is presented with a 50 cent ticket admitting to the entire show. This makes it the cheapest book ever published.

WISDOM.

People are never made so ridiculous by the qualities they possess as by those which they affect to have.

It is not always possible to keep from having mud thrown at you; but you can always keep from throwing it at others.

We should learn not to interpret duty by success. The opposition which assails us in the course of obedience is no evidence that we are mistaken.

He is a wise man who said "he is passing rich who can number friends enough for a jury—who can lose two or three and not be a bankrupt."

Your secret, kept to yourself, is safe. Once told, it is forever afloat on the sea of mutual confidences, and may confront you at a time and place where you are least able to meet it.

Don't ask favors if you can avoid it, not even from your nearest and dearest friends. Give as many as you can, and, if any are freely offered, it is not necessary to be too proud to take them; but never ask for or stand waiting for any.

A WORD OF ADVICE TO NEWSPAPERS.

A word of advice to newspapers is given by Rev. Washington Gladden in Sunday Afternoon, for May. He says—Not only do our newspapers offend by the publication of the vile details of great crimes, but also by picking up and spreading abroad little scandals, little unpleasantnesses in society, little bits of gossip that no sensible or honorable person wishes to know or would suffer himself to repeat. Much of the space of many weekly papers and of not a few dailies is devoted to matters of this description. The tittle-tattle of the neighborhood, that is not only silly, but poisonous in the extreme, is gathered and served up in as appetizing a manner as possible for the entertainment of the whole community. Domestic infelicities, with which the public has no business at all, afford material for spicy items; business complications are worse complicated by unauthorized reports concerning them; little troubles in the churches which those who have the care of their interests are doing their best to compose are fanned into grave dissensions by references to them in the newspapers. Sometimes when the details of these small scandals are not given, there are little hints and innuendoes that serve to put all the prurient and meddlesome noses in the community on the scent for indecency or mischief. What excuse or justification can there be for the publication of such items? Who is profited by reading them? What interest of intelligence, of morality, of decency is promoted by spreading abroad these miserable details of gossip? The only reason for printing them is that many people like to read them; they make a sale for the papers. But the taste that craves them is a vicious and degraded taste, and the business of gratifying and stimulating such a taste is a bad business.

If it is disreputable for a man to go about ringing his neighbors' door bells and reciting to them scandals by word of mouth, it is more disreputable for him to print them in a widely circulated newspaper. The story that a gentleman would not stoop to tell in good society, no gentleman ought to print in his paper. Meddling and mischief-making is just as reprehensible in a reporter as in any other man. The fact that such stuff makes his paper sell is a poor justification. And until the managers of newspapers learn to discriminate with a little more care between the news which the public has a right to hear and the news which is simply noisome or injurious scandal, the business of journalism will suffer a serious loss of respect and influence.

THE THEORIES OF COL. DWIGHT'S DEATH.

The theory upon which the coroner's inquest upon the body of the late Colonel Walton Dwight, of Binghamton, is conducted would be ludicrous were not the subject so grim. It appears to be claimed that Colonel Dwight committed suicide by hanging himself to the head of his bed, and at the last moment, when he knew that he was strangled to death, he unloosed the rope and threw it over the headboard. It remained for some one to think of this wonderful suicide secreting the rope with which he had hanged himself in a corner where it has not yet been found. Colonel Dwight's life was insured for a quarter of a million dollars, and immediately after his death a searching investigation was made as to the cause, without the discovery of any suspicious circumstances. The Equitable Life Assurance Society which had policies upon his life for $50,000, at once accepted the results of the investigation, and with its usual promptness paid its losses. The remaining companies, although none of them had nearly so much at risk, have not shown equal promptness, and now, months after Colonel Dwight's death, exhume his decaying body and set the coroner at work upon a theory patently impossible. —[N. The evening's entertainment commenced with a social of ten dances, lasting till midnight, when a supper was served and immediately after the German, consisting of nine figures, took place led by Mr. Thomas M. Seabury, 2nd, and was kept up until an early hour this morning. Much credit is due to the committee, consisting of Messrs. Thomas M. Seabury, 2d, Thomas Lawton, Charles Lawton, Henry Brightman, George Carr, Samuel Greene and George M. Dockray. Between fifty and sixty persons were present. The fort orchestra furnished the music.

CENTRAL BAPTIST SOCIETY.—At a meeting of the Central Baptist Church held last evening the question of extending a call to the Rev. Warren Randolph, D. D., of Indianapolis, was fully discussed. The expression of the people was almost unanimous for extending a call to that gentleman, although the official call will not be given for the present. The meeting last night was simply for the purpose of getting the views of the congregation. An adjourned meeting will be held soon at which all the preliminaries will be duly arranged and there appears to be little doubt but what the call will be forwarded and that it will be accepted.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council held its final regular meeting for the municipal year last evening. Acting Mayor Bull presided in the Board of Aldermen and President Franklin was in the chair in the lower branch. There was a full attendance of members.

THE TRADES' PROCESSION.

THE TRADES' PROCESSION—ITS EXTENT, TRIALS, TRIBULATIONS, &C.—THE STREETS LINED WITH SPECTATORS.

The fourth annual trades' procession took place yesterday. It was appalling in its length and dazzling in its beauty and variety. The wagons formed in front of the Ocean House at one o'clock, but owing to the number anxious to take part it was impossible to get started before half-past two. The procession was headed by Policeman Garnett, who bestrode a fiery charger which would frequently glide from under him to his extreme disgust. By a vigorous use of his club behind the left ear of his prancing steed, he at last succeeded in persuading the slippery animal to carry him, but the poor beast was almost choked by the fervent embraces he received. The officer succeeded in keeping the route clear of pedestrians and thereby saved many valuable lives. In the immediate rear was Stewart's drag, driven by Stephen Vars, who sat upon his high seat as majestic looking as ever a king did upon his throne. In his hands he held the reins and with them guided the eight noble horses which were decked with waving plumes and splendid trappings, and seemed by their prancing gait and proud bearing, to be conscious of the noble duty they were performing in drawing the Newport band who were seated in a gorgeous chariot, and arrayed in uniforms, ornamented with gold lace and brass buttons, which reflected the glaring sun straight into the eyes of the thousands of spectators who lined the route upon every side. It was astonishing what a fine lustre was upon some of the instruments. They shone with the brilliancy of old iron. The polish put on the music, however, made up for any other shortcomings. Following the band and driving a jet-black steed, which was drawing a wagon built many ages ago, sitting in grim and solemn silence, was the well-known and much respected Jonathan Bracewell, in former days the city's faithful crier, but now an enterprising and successful breadmaker. Behind him was a blank. A small boy with a small goat and wagon attempted to fill it, but soon gave out. The procession dragged its slow length along. Balconies, piazzas, windows and roofs on the way were densely crowded with admiring spectators who gazed with rapture. About half way over the route the people were encouraged by the addition of another baker's wagon, all nicely painted and lettered, which helped the show wonderfully and infused new length, if not new life into it. On seeing this, another "Richmond in the field" Jonathan changed his attitude, and bestowed upon his rival a threatening look. The procession now made quite a show, being composed of a mounted policeman, the Newport Band in full uniform and two bakers' wagons. Now if a wheelbarrow would only come along and join, but none put in an appearance. On Broadway the procession countermarched and the spectacle made an everlasting impression upon the memory of those who beheld it. It then by some mysterious process found its way to Washington square, when, sad to relate, Mr. Bracewell's horse absolutely refused to participate in the affair any longer. In spite of all persuasion he was as firm as a rock in his determination not to make a fool of himself any more that day and when strong measures were tried to make him go, he simply lifted his hind-quarters in a vigorous and rapid manner, and in less time than it takes to tell it knocked smithereens out of his ancient vehicle. This was a fatal blow to the further progress of the procession it being discovered that the other wagon had stolen silently away down some side street and even the gallant policeman had disappeared, and as there was nothing left but the band it was decided to stop the thing for this year, and thus ended one of the most brilliant processions that Newport has ever had the pleasure of witnessing!

THE PIANO RECITAL.

Lovers of music are anticipating much enjoyment in the concert to be given tomorrow evening in Casino hall by Mr. Perry and Miss Kellogg. Those who heard Mr. Perry at the recent concert by the Choral Society will require little more than the knowledge that they may again have the opportunity of hearing and seeing this remarkable pianist to induce them to be present. He has remarkable technique and wonderful expression. Miss Fannie Kellogg has appeared but once in Newport, we believe, and that was as soprano in the Whitney Concert Company in January last. In spite of her voice being then in poor condition by reason of a cold, her singing was very pleasing and a general wish was expressed to hear her again. She has a voice of great purity and sings with much expression and sweetness.

AN UNFORTUNATE REPORT.—The Providence Journal of this morning states that a member of Aquidneck Encampment, No. 5, I. O. of O. F., has failed to account for the money which he collected for the recent celebration and that a committee has been appointed to investigate the unpleasant rumors regarding it. The members of the committee on the celebration were Mr. A. C. Titus, Mr. John Bluck and Mr. Daniel Brown. Mr. Openshaw, who had charge of the settlement of the accounts, states that there is no defalcation and that every member of the committee has faithfully accounted for the funds collected. No committee has been appointed to investigate the matter.

"STILL WATERS RUN DEEP."

The Reform Club Dramatic Association presented last evening Tom Taylor's three act drama 'Still Waters Run Deep' to a large and appreciative audience. The cast of the play was strong and all the performers seemed to enter into the spirit of the piece. John Mildway (H. Wright) was capitally rendered. Captain Hawkesley (Wm. Rogers) showed careful study and on the whole was perhaps the best that he had done. Mr. Potter (John Corbett) was immense. Mr. Corbett's speciality seems to be parts like "Potter," and his acting was good throughout the piece. Mrs. Sternhold (Miss Jennie Potter) showed conclusively what a strong-minded woman may do when betrayed and sneered at by a man whom she had loved, but whom she now hates. The scene in Mrs. Mildway's boudoir, where she meets Hawkesley in the place of Mr. Mildway, and unmasks his character and shows him in his true role of an adventurer and perhaps a thief, was fairly rendered, and received merited applause. The other characters were well taken and the piece was a success. The music of the orchestra under Thomas Shields, leader, was very good.

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.

Col. Fearing has made the following appointments in the Artillery Company:

Quartermaster Sergeant—Jas. T. Powell.
Ensign Sergeant—Stephen R. Golfe.
Ordinance Sergeant—Thos. H. Lawton.
Corporals—Thos. C. Sherman, Geo. A. Eddy, A. A. Barker, Wm. T. Lawton.
Right General Guide—John B. Tayer.
Left General Guide—Galen Davis.
Markers—Robert Patterson, Philip R. Weaver.

A MONSTER SHOW BILL.

The mammoth bill of Barnum's "greatest show on earth" on Commercial wharf is probably the largest one of the kind ever displayed in this city. It covers the entire south side of the coal shed on Commercial wharf and is made of seventy sheets of paper printed in colors, requiring over four hundred blocks for the printing, taking three months of steady labor for several men and costing $3000. Mr. Barnum, in giving the order for the bill wrote, "Print me the biggest and best show bill in the world" and he has probably got it.

Pinniger & Manchester have just received a good assortment of family coal.

SUNDRIES.

How to get rich—Take a bank note, fold it up, and you will find your wealth increases.

This is a little co-educational racket. Professor—Who will see Mr. R. before next Monday? Lady Student—I shall see him Sunday night.

A debt is a very stubborn thing and always succeeds in having its own way. The more you attempt to contradict it the larger it gets.

A pickpocket taken with his hand in some one else's pocket endeavored to invent all manner of impossible explanations of the phenomenon. "What's the use of your trying to lie about it so clumsily?" said the magistrate, benevolently; "haven't you a lawyer?"

"I am glad," said an illiterate preacher, "that the Lord has opened my mouth to speak." "And well you may be," was the rejoinder, "for he never did such a thing but once before." "And when was that?" asked the preacher. "In Balaam's time!" was the conclusive answer.

A little girl who had been on a railroad when an accident occurred, was told by her mother that she ought to thank God for her escape from injury, when she made her evening prayer. She did it in this way: "Thank you, God, for not letting me be hurt today; but the next time I go to the city I'll go in a wagon."

An appetite for information. Arthur (who has been listening with breathless interest to one of grandpa's Bible stories)—"And were you in the ark, grandpa, along o' Noah and all the rest of 'em?" Grandpapa (indignantly)—"No, sir, certainly not!" Arthur—"Then how is it you wasn't drowned?"—[Punch.

STEAM HEATING.

THE GAS LIGHT COMPANY have added to their Gas Fitting Department the business of heating buildings by steam. The cost of steam apparatus has hitherto proved a bar to its general introduction; but at present, ordinary houses can be fitted with steam appliances for a small advance on the cost of a furnace. The superior healthfulness of steam heat, its admirable distribution, economy of fuel, and perfect self-regulation are points in its favor, which far outweigh the consideration of a small additional expense for the apparatus. Parties building, or desiring to change their mode of heating, are invited to apply at the office of the company, and obtain estimates of cost. Cellars too low to admit a furnace can have our boiler set up in them.

Both have been thoroughly tested and with entire success. Being complete manures they are adapted to all lands and all crops. Not an ounce of sand, loam or other refuse is added for adulteration, and the price at which they are sold is not above the cost of the several ingredients when purchased by the single ton. Put up in bags or barrels for $40.00 a ton for the Ashes, and $60.00 for the Yard Manure. At these figures the plant food in one is as cheap as in the other. PATENT

PARABOLA SPECTACLES

THE SPECTACLE LENS in common use, termed Double Convex, has but one focus, and that being in its centre, admits of a perfect vision only through its centre. Could the glass be attached to the eye, so as to move with it, or the head be made to turn and accommodate the sight, while the eyes remained fixed, the Double Convex Lens would not be so objectionable, but as neither of these plans could be very well accomplished, an easier method to remedy this important defect in all the hitherto constructed "helps to the defective human vision" is desirable; this end is attained in the Parabola Glasses, which, having not only a central focus, but (for all practical purposes) one throughout, the objection above name is obviated, as they will enable the wearer to perceive objects at every angle of vision, with all the correctness of the natural healthy sight. Those who have made use of both descriptions of glasses, assert that the Parabola are superior in the mild sensation they produce in comparison with the Double Convex, and the ability to use them for a greater length of time, both day and night, without occasioning a sense of weariness or fatigue. This difference, except to weak eyes, is not immediately apparent; but when properly fitted, a short trial only is necessary to convince the wearer of their superiority in every respect.

The above spectacles and eye glasses, in all the usual numbers, are on sale by

FERTILIZERS!

ONE REASON why the plant food in the "Artificial Ashes" and "Artificial Yard Manure" comes 20 per cent. cheaper than in most other fertilizers in this market is, that they are bought of the manufacturer, and without the usual profit of the retailer and the added expense of freight. A careful reckoning made from the analysis accompanying the bags sold in the market, shows that the cost of ammonia, phosphoric acid, and potash in these Newport Fertilizers is fully 20 per cent. less than in any other offered here. As the fertilizing ingredients are given in each case, it is an easy matter to decide on the relative values.

These fertilizers are made in Newport without the use of an ounce of sand, loam or other refuse, and in all cases of the very best materials. In these times 20 per cent. is worth saving. Further particulars given when desired. L. D. DAVIS.

Newport Laundry

STEAM

CARPET BEATING!

In connection with the Newport Laundry, we have put in a patent

STEAM CARPET BEATING MACHINE,

by which the Carpets are beaten on the back and brushed on the face. The dust and dirt as fast as beaten out of the fabric, are removed from the compartment where the carpets are beaten, by an exhaust fan, which also removes and carries out of the room any moth or other larva which may be beaten out of the carpet with the dirt and dust, so that there is no possibility of their settling back on the carpet.

Prices for Beating Carpets.

Ingrain and Three-Ply	5 cents per yard.
Brussels and Tapestry	5 cents per yard.
Velvet and Wilton	6 cents per yard.

A special price will be made to parties having 100 yards or more done at one time.

As the machine is under cover, carpets can be beaten in stormy, as well as in pleasant weather.

English and Rag Carpets will be Washed for Six Cents per Square Yard.

Manilla, Hemp or Rope Carpets, thoroughly cleaned for from 6 to 12 cents per yard.

Orders may be sent by mail, directed to the Newport Laundry, given to the driver of the laundry wagon, or may be left with J. D. Richardson, 212 Thames street, agent for the Newport Laundry.

Carpets called for and returned free of charge for cartage.

Artificial Ashes!

THIS FERTILIZER is made up on the basis of good Wood Ashes and contains all the elements of Plant Food that are found in Ashes, and in the same proportions. A thorough trial has shown that its use is equally beneficial and much more economical.

Artificial Yard Manure.

This article is composed of such materials as furnish a mixture containing all the elements found in stable manure and in the same proportions. When it is desired to enrich the soil it is necessary to add certain ingredients such as potash, phosphoric acid, ammonia, soda, magnesia, etc. These are all found in the Artificial on the same basis as in stable manure.

The cost is less than in purchased yard manure and at least twenty per cent. less than in some of the most popular commercial fertilizers. Neither of these articles have an ounce of sand, loam or refuse added for the sake of bulk or weight. Each farmer is left to make his own reduction in strength.

No such articles as dried blood, fish, animal meal, etc., etc., are used to obtain nitrogen as in many other cases.

Good corn was raised last year on light land by the application of $15.00 worth to the acre. It was also used in several Newport gardens, and on numerous lawns with excellent effect.

Were these articles diluted like others sold by weight the price could be made accordingly. With the present strength and purity the Artificial Ashes will cost $40 a ton, and the Artificial Yard Manure $60.00. At these prices the fertilizers come at a less cost than the several ingredients can be bought for by the single ton, were the farmer to mix them himself. Besides, in this case in buying so much at a time, low prices are not only obtained, but the cost of analysis can be afforded by which it is known that the articles used are as represented.

These are complete manures suited to all soils and all crops, which are the only ones that can be used in safety. Partial fertilizers, like fish, may force an immediate crop but are sure to exhaust the land.

For sown crops and seeding nothing can be better than the Artificial Ashes. It is also exactly suited to pastures and meadows. For hoed crops the Artificial Yard Manure is to be preferred.

Orders may be sent to the undersigned at the office of this paper. Terms cash. Circulars sent on application.
